

May 16, 2012

Rolluda Architects

Rolluda Architects hired Karlin Castor-Peck and Angela Ferrigan as project designers and Annette Johnson as marketing manager. Castor-Peck's projects include a house on Beacon Hill, and a University District mixed-use building with housing, retail and offices. Ferrigan has worked on housing, medical and fire facilities, courthouses, restaurants, retail and commercial buildings, and is now working on projects for Boeing. Johnson has more than 23 years of marketing and office administration experience in architecture, engineering and construction. Rolluda provides architecture, interior design, programming and planning.

Copyright 2013 Seattle Daily Journal of Commerce